**Distances calculations based on measurements from, "Rivers and Rapids", B. Nolen and B. Narramore, 2000*

- Paddlers should plan to travel two to three miles per hour by kayak or canoe .
- Tubes travel 6-9 miles per hour. Tubing is not recommended.
- A comfortable kayak trip distance allowing time for put-in and take-out with a lunch break is four to seven hours or five to ten river miles.
- Be smart. Wear a PFD. Tell someone when and where you are going and whom to call if you do not arrive.
- Follow Texas state boating regulations.
